

From the Chair, Chris Atkins:

It is lovely to be able to report that the last monthly meeting talk was received with such a huge amount of interest. Our Speaker, Ann French, described her working life as a textile restorer and it was fascinating to listen to her descriptions of the many incredible historical restorations that she has worked on. Most of us, I think, believed that her job must be noticeably quiet, and for some of the time it is, but she also holds a scaffolding license and can operate machinery most of us only see on building sites! Ann thinks nothing of climbing to vast heights to hang finished pieces of work both inside and outside exhibition venues and has also travelled all over the world when her expertise is needed for a specific project. Since our open day, some members have shown a degree of curiosity relating to Avalon. This is the group name for Martock & District, Somerton, Crewkerne & District and Chard & Ilminster u3as. The prime benefits of belonging to any of these u3as mentioned means that any member can attend any meeting or join any group under the Avalon umbrella for no added charge other than membership of your own u3a. Yeovil also belongs to Avalon however, they do not allow outside members of Avalon to attend their meetings for free as their membership is much more expensive than the rest of us.

I make no apology for continuing to ask for members to stand for the committee. We will go under if at least two people cannot be found. We need a new Chair and a Secretary urgently. If you can help, especially by taking over one of these two positions, then please do come and talk to me. The only requirements are fair computer skills and a genuine wish to see our u3a thrive.

Our next Speaker, Richard Salter, is going to give us a potted history of Quakers in England. To make Richard feel completely comfortable we will not be holding a raffle at this meeting as Quakers do not indulge in any form of gambling.

An Introduction to Richard Salter the speaker on 14 May

Richard is from Taunton. He grew up in Bristol and North Somerset but has lived in Taunton for fifty years. His Salter ancestors were from the Blackdowns. He has a degree in History from Oxford and Richard's working life was as a secondary school History teacher, an Open University History lecturer, a teachers' trade union secretary and an adult education tutor. Having been retired a while now, Richard's life still seems busy with children and grandchildren, friendships, travel and long-distance walking.

For most of his life Richard has had a religious commitment but thinks he's more of a seeker than an adherent. He has been a member of Taunton Quaker Meeting for thirty years, but would never claim to be an especially good Quaker!

Richard's Quaker interest and his History interests are entwined, and he tends to seek the historical dimension in most things he studies. No spoilers, but he will try to suggest that Quakerism in England has had a series of stages, which have sometimes looked quite different from each other, while Quakers still hold to the insights which first made them distinctive.

Quakerism has deep roots in Somerset, both in the towns and in the countryside. The historic connections between Quakers and certain trades and industries are well known and include textiles and shoe-making in Somerset.

Richard is looking forward to our afternoon together!

So if you are computer literate, enjoy being involved and with time to attend one Committee meeting a month, please consider joining the Committee and contact Chris Atkins for more details.

May Facts and Legends ...

May is named after the Greek goddess Maia. It's the time when flowers emerge and crops begin to sprout. The Anglo-Saxons called the month 'Tri-Milchi' because the lush new grass meant that cows could be milked 3 times a day. It was first called May in about 1430, before that being known as Maius, Mayes or Mai.

The May flowers are Lily of the Valley representing the return of happiness and sweetness and Hawthorn, a symbol of hope. The birthstone is emerald, which represents fertility and rebirth.

May was thought to be an ill-omened month for getting marriage, with the saying 'Marry in May and you'll rue the day' - though no-one knows where this comes from or why. Maybe just from an unhappy spouse!

Other superstitions include a Cornish one about not buying a new broom in May as it's unlucky. And you shouldn't wash any blankets either! May weather lore includes 'A wet May makes a big load of hay. A cold May is kindly and fills the barn finely'.

The Eta Aquariids meteor shower can be seen in May. It was discovered in 1870 and can be seen best from equatorial regions, just before dawn.

May is exclusive in the year in the days it begins and ends. If it starts on a Friday and finishes on a Sunday, no other month that year will start on a Friday or finish on a Sunday.

May events include:

- On 5 May 1930, Amy Johnson was the first woman to complete a solo flight from England to Australia
- The world's first postage stamp, the Penny Black, became valid on 6 May 1840
- Also on 6 May 1954, Roger Bannister became the first person to run a mile in under 4 minutes
- VE (Victory in Europe) Day was on 8 May 1945. This year we celebrate the 80th anniversary, with the number of people in the UK still alive who lived then and served in the war rapidly decreasing
- Nelson Mandela became the President of South Africa on 10 May 1994
- On 18 May 1991, Helen Sharman became the first British woman in space
- 29 May is Oak Apple Day, when traditionally people wore oak apples or oak leaves to remember that King Charles II was restored to the monarchy on this day in 1660
- Joan of Arc was burned at the stake on 30 May 1431
